Econ 182b. American Economic History

- Day / time: T/Th 1:00 - 2:15 pm
- Course Type: Undergraduate
- Course term: Spring
- Year: 2016
- Location: Davies Auditorium

The growth of the American economy since 1790, both as a unique historical record and as an illustration of factors in the process of economic development. The American experience viewed in the context of its European background and patterns of industrialization overseas.

After introductory microeconomics.

[Also Hist 135b]

- Visiting Instructor(s): Laura Salisbury
- Undergrad Course Category: History

Source URL: http://dev.economics.yale.edu/courses/econ-182b-american-economic-history